Plain Scores Decisive Win —Fyfe Tops Councillors

St. Albert's electorate turned their backs on incumbent mayor Ray Gibson and solidly supported challenger Richard Plain at the polls on October 16. About 43 per cent of the eligible 10,094 voted. Chief Returning Officer R. B. Bowen termed the turnout a good one for a municipal election though he stated that it did not represent a record.

Dr. Plain took the lead early in the race and grasped a strong hold. The contest was not a close one with Plain on top by 1,078. When the ballots had all been tallied Plain had 2,910 and Ray Gibson had 1,832. The core of Gibson's support came from the downtown area and Mission Park.

New council sworn in and down to work

A variety of procedural topics as well as some interesting food for thought were placed before the new mayor and council at their first meeting Monday night. A relatively large group of the public were on hand for the swearing in of the elected and many stayed for the first half of the meeting.

The new mayor, Dr. Richard Plain, was called before the Chief Returning Officer, R. B. Bowen, to take the oath of office as were the councillors who came forward to swear the oath as a group. Immediately following this action the organizational meeting was called to order by Mayor Plain and the business at hand began.

The first item on the agenda dealt with the meeting dates and Coun. Thronsdon moved that the first and third Mondays be established as the dates for regular council meetings, unless these days fall on a statutory holiday when the meeting would be held on the following day not a holiday. In the discussion which ensued Mr. Byron noted that there are alternatives to this practice and stated that Thursday could possibly be considered. He also pointed out that the Monday meeting caused councillors to spend a week-end perusing the agenda which may be a hardship on them. Mayor Plain also stated that it was his concern that members of council would not have the opportunity to accumulate the additional information which may be required on specific matters. He stated that the request for information could be made during the week if the meeting was established on a Thursday. Mr. Byron pointed out that a Thursday meeting would have a circulated agenda available on a Monday. Coun. Lukay drew attention to the fact that it is entirely possible that councillors may discover conflicts, such as other meetings, which may take place on a Thursday.

As the discussion continued on this matter Coun. Breadner inquired as to the time constraints on members of staff as they would be affected by setting the meetings up on the Thursday. Mr. Byron replied that it could be done without a great deal of hardship. Coun. Thronsdon stated that his preference lay with a Monday meeting saying that the weekdays were filled with other meetings and that it allowed him more time to consider the agenda. Coun. Fyfe also stated that she preferred the Monday meeting.

Coun. Lukay moved an amendment to Coun. Thronsdon's motion stating that the motion read Thursday instead of Monday. Coun. Fyfe stated that she felt that this contradicted the motion. Mayor Plain then stated that he felt that the motion was not to establish a particular day for meetings, rather he said that the motion was to establish that meetings would be held. He went on to state to Coun. Fyfe that she could challenge the chair if she so desired. She did challenge the chair and his ruling was upheld 6 to 1. The vote on Coun. Lukay's amendment was defeated 3 to 4, and the original motion received a vote of 5 to 2 and was passed. Mayor Plain and Coun. Lukay voted in opposition.

Coun. Thronsdon made a motion regarding the Committee of the Whole meetings for the alternate Mondays (unless these days fall on statutory holidays). The motion passed 7 to 0.

Discussion on other matters of procedure took up the balance of the meeting until the coffee break with topics including the appointments to boards, duties of Chairmen, question and answer, of motion, resolutions, and the Development Appeal Board considered. The procedures to be followed by the new Council will be clarified at a later date with a statement to come from Mr. Byron as to the alternatives which could be followed. It was decided by Council to do away with the necessity for a seconder to a motion. A 7 to 0 vote was received to adjourn for coffee.

Gala dance will mark 10th anniversary for Square Dancers

Square Dancing has been fun for many St. Albert families for 10 years now. This year, the "Saints and Sinners" square dance club celebrate their 10th anniversary as part of our community recreation scene. A gala dance beginning at 8:30 p.m., Saturday, November 2nd will mark the event. It will be held in the Sir Alexander Mackenzie School gymnasium, which is the Club's regular dance spot. Supper will be served after the dance and admission is only $2.00 per couple.

All square dancers are invited to this event and a particularly warm invitation is extended to all past members, who have been affiliated with the club over the past 10 years, to join in the celebration.

The caller during the Club's decade of togetherness has been long-time St. Albert resident Syd Deguire. Syd was instrumental founding the club and has been a faithful part of their activities since then. Membership averages 50 persons from year to year and the club is seen as meeting a distinct recreation need in the area.

Dancers can start square dancing by joining the Beginner's level which meets every Friday evening at the Grandin Clubhouse. There are openings now at this level and new dancers are most welcome to join at this time. Cost is most reasonable at only $2 per couple, per dancing evening. Experienced square dancers, of course, are welcome to join the regular club at any of the Saturday dances, held every first and third Saturday of the month, at the SAM gym.

Dancing is now commonly done to adapted popular tunes. The connotation of "barn dancing" has largely become a thing of the past. Styling of the dance movements has eliminated the old concept of the ladies being swung off their feet and, generally speaking, to see the couples gaily attired in their colorful square dance outfits, swirling through the patterned movements of the dance, is a memorable sight.

To join in the dancing is even more fun.

TWO INSURANCE AGENTS with a difference dropped into the Gazette office this week. They were (centre) President of the St. Albert Movers Lorraine Bellerose and club vice-president Susan Schuchard (right). They came into the Gazette office to sell $1.00 spook insurance against hallowe'en night, which is soon coming round in case you've forgotten. Seen here (left) is Mrs. Lorraine Mitchell taking out insurance against the spooks and hobgoblins. Susan said the proceeds from the insurance will go to social, cultural and economic projects for the youth of St. Albert and also such projects as holiday community volunteers.

Thoughts on

Hallowe'en Apples

The municipal election results throughout the Edmonton area have confirmed what many people saw coming - many changes. In St. Albert the turnout of voters was just over 43 per cent and in some areas in MD Sturgeon was over 50 per cent, which is higher than most elections in recent times, but still leaves considerable room for improvement by way of citizen participation in local government.

Undoubtedly the key issue in St. Albert was controlled growth, strongly advocated by the new mayor, by incumbent Councillor Lukay and by new Councillors Wetsch, Breadner and Smith, all of whom were elected.

The devastating effects of extremely rapid growth surfaced visibly and simultaneously in 1974 in the areas of traffic, crowded schools and kindergartens, water shortages, extra lagoon flushings and an alarming lack in recreation facilities. Day by day frustration resulted.

The effects on people of mounting day by day frustration are serious and damaging to health, happiness and effective functioning during both work hours and leisure hours.

So the citizens responded. Campaigns were organized and many citizens gave time and talent - still more gave support in the polling booths. They sent a new mayor plus three other new members to council, and vindicated Frank Lukay with a strong mandate.

Clearly the people have asked for new directions and different policies and the new mayor and council have a big job to do, carrying heavy responsibilities. They have all advocated open government and as elected representatives they will be strengthened by the contributions of local residents who are largely well informed people and knowledgeable in a wide variety of skills, professions and experience.

It is to be hoped the voice of the people will continue to be heard, for their successful involvement should not end with the election. Any residue of bitterness left from a vigorous campaign needs to be buried, so that the views of the dissenting voters can also continue to be heard - not in bitterness but in constructive criticism or support.

Well planned satellite towns will continue to offer an alternative to city living, and several new ones are presently coming into being in Alberta. St. Albert was one of the first and largest. A satellite town can be a great deal more than a dormitory town, and ours has many advantages. Our history goes back to 1861 and we have oldtimers and newcomers at work to preserve it. Our original French speaking population continues vibrant in a community which has come to embrace large numbers of people from the United Kingdom and Western Europe, plus many more Canadian-born residents of a variety of ethnic backgrounds.

Programs of our excellent Arts and Crafts Guild, and town sport activities, reflect and reinforce the varied backgrounds of our residents, and pass them on to our young people.

We also have going for us the support of our farm population in the town's excellent trading area, of considerable importance to local business firms. Towns people have contact with rural people in our stores, banks, business offices and high schools.

All St. Albert residents can enjoy fuller, more interesting lives through becoming involved in community activities. Given adequate facilities the "dormitory" or "bedroom-town" concept should become an attitude of the past. This satellite town holds an interesting potential as the kind of ideal community many people are seeking. It could be developed as a model for others just beginning or yet to begin. Particularly on the prairies, where space is not at a premium.

The people should have a say in the planning and developing of the kind of home and community environment they choose. Developers and governments must recognize that right. In terms of economic benefits, providing suitable choices of home and community environment offers a practical preventive approach to the social ills which beset us.

"The most significant contribution of the seventies to the future may well be the rejection of the view that quantitative growth inevitably brings about a better life, and beginning of a search for qualitative rather than quantitative changes."

Rene Dubois, microbiologist, Pulitzer prize-winning author, and professor emeritus at Rockefeller University.

Meeting on Land Use — Urban Growth

The Fourth Annual Joint Meeting of the Public Advisory Committee on the Environment and the Environment Conservation Authority will be held Oct. 23, 24, 25, 1974 at the Hotel Macdonald, Edmonton. The Public Advisory Committee is composed of representatives from more than 80 organizations and associations throughout Alberta, representing a broad spectrum of this province's population. The theme of this year's meeting is "Land Use and Urban Expansion." The three guest speakers for the opening session are Dr. John A. Toogood, Dept. of Soil Science, University of Alberta; Glen Lavold, Hilldale Development Ltd., Edmonton; and William T. Lane, British Columbia Land Commission.

Questions and discussion will follow the presentations of the three speakers. Three Alberta cabinet ministers -- Hugh M. Horner, Agriculture; William J. Yukko; Environment; Fred H. Peacock, Industry and Commerce -- and Jack Davis of the Land Use Forum, will be panelists for a discussion of the various types of land use, their attractions, drawbacks, and the interrelationships among the types of land use and urban growth.

Multimillion dollar wheat sales, an increasing world population, and predictions of a world food shortage in the near future combine to for food stuffs. Not only agriculturists but also all segments of our society should be concerned with the loss of land suitable for sustained agricultural production to non-agricultural uses. The total encroachment upon agricultural land by urban growth, industrial expansion, public transportation and waste disposal is substantial in Alberta. For example, the City of Edmonton during the last seven years absorbed 25,000 acres of Class 1, 2 and 3 agricultural land adjoining the city, and the City of Calgary claimed approximately 15,500 acres.

The work which the five study groups of the Public Advisory Committee on the Environment and the three other public advisory committees have done during the past year will be reviewed at the meeting. And, most importantly, the recommendations and resolutions which the study groups have formulated will be presented for discussion and vote. Those recommendations and resolutions which are passed will be forwarded to the Environment Conservation Authority and the Government of Alberta for review and consideration.

The meeting will adjourn Friday, October 25, at 4 p.m.

Sonla Hodgins.

Parents strongly favour existing school times

The results of the survey of parental preference regarding school opening time in the Nickerson - Mackenzie and Lorne Akns attendance areas were revealed at a recent meeting of the St. Albert Protestant Separate school district #6.

The parents, polled for their views voted overwhelmingly to retain the present school opening and closing times (8:30 a.m. - 3 p.m.) for the 1974-75 school year. Expressed as a percentage, those voting "Yes" totalled 81.1% and those voting "No" totalled 18.2%. Alternative times suggested by the "no" respondents varied from 8:30 a.m. - 2:30 p.m. to 9:30 a.m. - 4 p.m. or 4:30 p.m. The board of trustees accepted the recommendation put forward by Mr. Elmer Gish, district superintendent that the schools involved continue to open at 8:30 a.m. and close at 3 for the 1974-75 year. If the "two run" busing system is to continue in the 1975-76 school year the following school opening and closing times will be adopted.

Schools served by the first bus run:
a.m. session 8:45 a.m. to 11:20 a.m.
Lunch Period 11:20 a.m. to 12:40 p.m.
P.M. Session 12:40 a.m. to 3:15 p.m. (Grade One dismissed at 2:15 p.m.).

Schools served by second bus run:

A.M. Session 9:15 a.m. to 11:50 a.m.
Lunch period 11:50 a.m. to 1:10 p.m.
P.M. Session 1:10 p.m. to 3:45 p.m.

Tenders put forward by four construction companies for the construction of the Lacombe - Park Community Core School were voted upon and the lowest bid from Bennett and White Construction for the amount of $831,251 was accepted.

Conservative Candidates Views

In accordance with Gazette thinking that people should know as much as possible about the platform views of people seeking their support, the paper is once again offering space to all candidates for the Progressive Conservative Nomination. Since there is limited time before the nomination meeting in Morinville on Nov. 7, the two declared candidates were invited to submit articles for the October 23 and 30 issues. The offer will be made to other candidates as they make their intentions known.

Bob Prather

My decision to seek the nomination for the Progressive Conservative Party in the next provincial election was made public Sept. 25. In making that announcement I stated that my decision to seek the nomination was based on a considered disappointment regarding the performance of the MLA over the past three years. That is not to say that no good whatsoever has been accomplished. It is rather, on balance, that less good has been accomplished than ought to have been. I should like, in this issue of the Gazette, to examine the negative side of the balance, citing, at the same time, my own responses to constituency concerns.

It is my view that one of the major responsibilities of an MLA is to determine, through consultation with elected town, village, and municipal representatives and constituents, the needs of the electoral community, and to co-ordinate the efforts of these groups with the appropriate provincial agencies. This is a constructive role. When we examine the conduct of the incumbent MLA it is clear that this has not been the case. Instead, we find that needs have not been met; that constructive efforts have been misdirected or thwarted altogether. We find that the MLA's relationships with civic bodies are destructive to the point that little can be accomplished for the general good of the community, when the reverse ought to be the case. We find that elected individuals are working against rather than with each other.

The active involvement of the MLA in several election campaigns in the constituency in the last month will not help matters either. Few of us believe that party politics ought to be introduced into civic elections. And yet, by his actions the MLA has done precisely that. At the moment it is impossible to assess the long-term effect of such actions, but it becomes increasingly difficult to see how civic representatives can retain their autonomy when they owe a debt of gratitude (at least) to the official government representative in the constituency regardless of their private political views.

I would also draw your attention to several of the MLA's views as they were expressed in the last provincial election (and I have good cause to be familiar with them). Mr. Jamison on record as favouring 1. provincial provision for a "green belt" between St. Albert and Edmonton, 2. upgrading of access routes from the western portion of the constituency to Edmonton, and 3. providing added facilities for the care of the intellectually limited and the aged. All these are laudable, necessary objectives. These key platform items were to have been "dealt with immediately." The constituency is still breathless with anticipation.

My own objectives are basically the same as those expressed by Mr. Jamison three years ago, but there is one major difference that I would like to emphasize. My approach stresses action as opposed to promises; co-operation instead of confrontation.

I offer my record of community and party service as a basis for my candidacy and ask for your support. I invite you to review my activities within the party for the past 14 years and of my record of community service since moving to St. Albert in 1963.

Unlike an election, nomination contests require that you become a party member and attend a nomination meeting. In our case this meeting occurs in Morinville on November 7. Your vote will determine who the Progressive Conservative candidate will be in the next provincial election.

In closing for this week, I extend my thanks to The Gazette for providing space for both declared candidates.

Ernie Jamison

To many readers who have just come through municipal and school elections it may come as a surprise to see more 'candidates views' this week. But at the nomination meeting Conservatives in St. Albert constituency will get another ballot, to vote on the person they wish to represent them in the provincial election next year.

To date there are only two candidates, myself incumbent businessman and owner of the St. Albert and Sturgeon Gazette, and Bob Prather, with the Protestant School Board administration former principal and teacher.

For several reasons I am actively seeking support for a second term. New members spend much time "learning the ropes" as it were - a lot of us discovered that last time, and with three years experience behind me I feel I can be more effective this time.

A major reason behind my decision to run is that there are quite a number of areas in which I have worked hard to accomplish my objectives as an MLA which are now in the process of being completed. I want to see them through.

When the Syncrude proposal for a plant in St. Albert came along it was in direct contradiction to the position I took when asking support in 1971. I was not prepared to pussyfoot around that one. Now the government's new Corridor concept has been announced. And with the announcement and the reports made public on the concept, came the forecast of a coming formula for sharing the industrial tax base. There is no member of the provincial government who is not aware of Jamison's strong advocacy of equalization of industrial tax, and industry separated from attractive residential areas.

That is why so much ground work has been done between your MLA and the municipal governments in this constituency in preparation for the forming of regional boards. The elected representatives in every rural town, village and on the MD Sturgeon council have made a firm commitment to go ahead with regional boards for more efficient handling of transportation, water and sewer, parks and recreation and land use. The Town of St. Albert moved to ask government assistance in doing a study, and I believe St. Albert cannot stand alone, for the alternative must be annexation, plus an Edmonton three times the size it is now.

As a businessman of 21 years I believe in working from the bottom up and this has been my approach in government. The people at the bottom are well informed on problems they face - whether it be a business problem or a problem needing assistance from government, it has been my constant practice to go and see in person any individuals or groups needing assistance. Armed with their suggestions and ideas on how the problem could be either alleviated or solved, I can make my own assessment and that is when it is time to go to the top. Many troublesome problems have been handled in this way - the Namaw water line was one, learning disabilities was another. Work on the green belt, ring road, traffic dispersal and the Sturgeon river has all borne fruit. The green belt and ring road planning is completed and soon to be announced. The Sturgeon River was given number three priority and work will get underway next year on a program of cleaning it up and restoring it over several years. I had no quarrel with the Paddle and Vermilion taking the first priorities, with the seriousness of flood conditions. Planning for traffic dispersal in the area has had contribution from knowledgeable people in St. Albert, the rural area and myself. It is presently receiving urgent attention by government.

It is a full time job to serve as MLA in this constituency. When I started my campaign in January 1971 I hired a full time man to replace myself on advertising sales at the Gazette and since then have hired such staff as needed, given the situation that the best I could do the year around to help out in my business could be about 25 hours per month. That is as it should be, for I believe it is the people's right that their elected representative must earn his salary which they pay.

You will always know where I stand on any issue or situation, because I believe you should know, whether you agree with me or not. Perhaps I will never be a "political" animal. But I am not afraid of hard work and I believe I have done and will continue to do a good job as your MLA, drawing on my business experience and my experience in government.

Kinsmen-Kinnettes home from World Conference

Three couples from the St. Albert Kinsmen and Kinnettes enjoyed a month's holiday overseas during which they took in a one week conference of the World Council of Young Men's Service Clubs, held in Edinburgh, Scotland.

Some 2,500 attended the conference, comprised of Kinsmen (Canada), Apex Club (Australia), Active 20-30 Club (U.S.A.), and the Round Table Club (Great Britain, Europe, Africa and India). The Kinsmen were represented by about 30 couples from Canada, including 10 from Edmonton. The Conference brought service club members from 55 countries around the world together for purposes of exchanging ideas and examining ways of improving and increasing the effectiveness of their organizations in all countries and communities. Election of a WOCO President and the selection of the sites for future conferences were interesting parts of the agenda.

Deepak Banker from India takes over from Bob Stumblies of South Africa as the new World Council President. Next year's conference will be held in Hong Kong, followed by Hamburg, Germany in 1976 and Canada (site to be selected) in 1977.

Barry and Elaine Welsh, Bill and Nomy Hite, David and Linda Stewart attended an International Luncheon upon their arrival in London, held in the famous Guild Hall and hosted by the Lord Mayor of London. The next two weeks were spent touring Wales, Cheshire, Lancashire and Yorkshire and the visitors were hosted and billeted throughout by British Round Tablers. After the conference in Edinburgh they returned to London for the final week of their trip.

The St. Albert couples agreed that meeting the people in their own homes and settings was truly the most memorable part of their visit. Barry Welsh was born in Yorkshire and he and Elaine visited relatives there.

Other highlights were the beauty and grandeur of a country steeped in history, tradition and culture, which varies from one country to the next. They enjoyed visits to castles, cathedrals and museums and were guests at civic receptions and formal and informal gatherings of every description. Plus learning about what Rugby Fever, Welsh singing and Hospitality is all about, including a trip to the famed Cardiff Arms Rugby Park. Above all they had fun exploring the local "Pubs" with lime and lager, shepherd's pie, ye olde fish and chips served in newspaper, cockles and mussels and mushey peas!

They saw Edinburgh Castle and the Royal Mile; Princess Street and Holyrood House (the Queen's home in Scotland). And in London Trafalgar Square, Piccadilly Circus, Buckingham Palace, the underground tube system - and 10,000 taxis. In London they also visited with Rod and Anne Jacques, formerly of St. Albert and now at Henley-on-Thames (near London).

On their last night in London the three couples with their English, Welsh and South African friends had dinner on a riverboat on the Thames, in sight of London Bridge. After sad farewells and an eight hour flight they arrived home - totally exhausted, but happy!

Comets open season Friday at home against Westlock

The St. Albert Comets will open the 1974-75 Edmonton Central Hockey League at home this Friday evening when they play host to the powerful Eagles from Westlock. Eagles finished fourth in the league last year but came on strong in the playoffs to upset the Comets in the semi-finals and then took out Leduc Oilers to win the league championship. Westlock will again be coached by Roger Laplante and will have most of last year's team back including the league's top scorer in Leo Provincial.

The game is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. with pre-game ceremonies to get underway about 7:15. Master of ceremonies Larry Mitchell will introduce various personalities including the new Mayor Dick Plahn who will drop the first puck to officially get the league underway.

Fort Saskatchewan Hukies will be the only new team to enter the league this season and they will be up against some strong competition with the teams in the order they finished in last year - Sherwood Park Barons, St. Albert Comets, Leduc Oilers, Westlock Eagles, Winterburn Tomahawks, CFB Namao Trojans, Barrhead Sabres and Stony Plain Eagles.

Fort Saskatchewan played in the Central Alberta Senior League last season and finished in last place in the six team league behind Westaskin, Drayton Valley, Ponoka, Camrose and Stettler. Fort coach Chet Evans has added some new blood this season and feels his team will be quite a bit stronger and should make the four team playoffs.

St. Albert have made a number of changes in their personnel which will see Dale Ripple take over the coaching reins with manager John Arnot helping out. Both played with the Comets last year and will suit up again if the team runs into any serious injury problems. Arnot took over the coaching midway through the season last year and saw the team win 11 of 13 games he coached. Ripple is an excellent defensive defenseman and should do well in his new position.

Comets have had an excellent try out camp with a number of new faces showing well. The only players back from last year's squad are Perry Pearn, Harvey Kirkland, Wally Monson, Dan Towpich, Randy Clarke, Rich Perrault, John Toner, Paul St. Cyr and Zane Jakubec.

Some of the new players to make the team should provide Comet fans with some excellent action are: Bert Fizzell, Bob Beaulieu, Lyle Schuler, Brian Stevens, Rick Hanck, Len Fesak, Mark Contant, Paul Fatjewski, Barry Richardson and Herm Hordel.

Fizzell has had pro experience with the Western Hockey League and the International League. After playing junior hockey in Saskatoon Bert turned pro with the Calgary Stampede where he spent a season before moving on to the Victoria Cougars. He scored 42 goals and 35 assists in his two seasons in the Western League. Bert then moved to the International League where he spent seven years with the Des Moines Capitals. He played 460 games, scored 227 goals and added 373 assists for 600 points which is well over one per game. He also played in 30 playoff games scoring 12 goals and 25 assists for 37 points.

Beulieu was a top defenseman with the U of A Golden Bears the past two seasons and has also played at the U of A in Calgary. He was a team-mate of Paul St. Cyr's with the Bears and coach Ripple will reunite the two on the blueline. Rich Perrault and John Toner will be the other blueline combination. Schuler has not played in a couple of seasons but his size and mobility will get him by until he gets into condition. He will no doubt be the biggest player in the league.

Stevens is back with the club after spending the past two seasons with the Winterburn Tomahawks. He is a strong skater and a good back checker.

Richardson will split the goaltending duties with Jakubec and Herm Hordel and should give the Comets the best netminders in the league. Richardson is 28 and played his minor and junior hockey in Trail, B.C. He played his senior hockey with the Trail Smokeeaters and Edmonton Monarchs. While with the Monarchs he was the team's most valuable in the 69/70 and 70/71 seasons. He also played with the Golden Bears and was a team-mate of St. Cyr's and

Randy Clarke.

Comets will play a 32 game schedule with their 16 home games being played Friday's and Sunday's with the odd Tuesday game.

All games are scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

Comets will get a chance to show their stamina right off the bat as they play five games in 10 days. Next Tuesday they will be in Barrhead and the following night will travel to Winterburn. Friday they will be at home against Stony Plain and CFB will be here on Sunday. Ripple has a couple of players to cut and the first five games will no doubt have a bearing on who makes the final roster.

The Comets this season have decided to not go with one sponsor as in the past and have obtained a number of local businessmen to help support the team. Anyone interested in making a donation can call president, Claude Contant at 459-8651 and he will drop around and see you. A new program is almost completed and will give fans an insight on some of the players on the Comets. The Comets would like to thank their many fans for their excellent support last year and hope they will come out again.

All eyes are on Comet defenseman Rich Perrault (2) as he comes around behind goalie Zane Jakubec in the Comets inter-squad game played Sunday evening in the arena. The Blues defeated the Whites 8-2 with Bert Fizzell and Jim Schuler getting a pair each. Comets are at home this Friday when the Westlock Eagles are here to open the Edmonton Central Hockey League.

Bantam footballers win first round of playoffs

Fullback Rod Wiltshire exploded for a pair of touchdowns the first two times St. Albert Carma Developers had the ball and led his team to an impressive 23-6 win over Capilano Mallers in the quarter finals of the Edmonton and District Bantam Football playoffs Sunday afternoon at Kinsmen Park. The game was played under perfect conditions as the weatherman co-operated in grand style.

Wiltshire, the league's top rusher, took the opening kickoff and ran it back 90 yards for a touchdown. The run was well executed as Wiltshire went through the entire Capilano team on his way to score. Carma then kicked off to the Mallers who failed to make a first down and were then forced to punt. On the first play from scrimmage, quarterback Joe Twores handed off to Wiltshire and he ran up the middle for a 80 yard score. Peter Twores was good on the convert and St. Albert were out in front by a 14-0 score.

Early in the second quarter, Capilano scored on a five yard plunge to get on the scoreboard and get back in the game. Just before the half ended halfback Brian McCann took a pitch-out from Twores and ran around the right side for a 40 yard touchdown and to give St. Albert a 20-6 lead at half time. Both clubs had some good scoring chances in the first half but couldn't finish off their plays to score.

The second half was a defensive battle throughout and Peter Twores' third quarter 30 yard field goal was the only scoring play. Mark Ammar and Rod Wiltshire intercepted two stray Capilano passes in the last half to stall potential scoring plays.

In other quarter final action Jenner Pontiac pulled off a big upset as they scored a close 12-7 win over Weber Bros. Really who were last year's champions and expected to go all the way again. Weber's coach Dick Dale was somewhat upset over his teams loss but that's football.

In this Sunday's semi-final playoff action, Carma Developers will take on Great West Steel and Canada Safeway will play Jenners. The two winners will meet the following Sunday for the league championship.

Coaches Urgently Required

The Kinsmen Minor Hockey Association urgently requires coaches in both bantam and midjet leagues. Teams are now being made up and if there are no coaches for five or six teams the boys will not be able to play. Anyone interested in a little hard work but a lot of satisfaction at the end of the year, please call Al Scheuremah at - 459-8117 (bantam) or Gary McDermott at - 458-1549 for midjet. Make some boy happy by becoming a coach.

Junior Bruins win opener against Leduc Riggers

St. Albert Bruins won the season opener of the Capital Junior Hockey League last Friday night in St. Albert with an exciting 3-2 win over Leduc Galaxie Riggers before a good crowd of 350 fans. The game was officially started with MLA Ernie Jamison dropping the first puck. New Mayor Dick Plain also took part and wished the Bruins the best of luck in the new season. As usual the PA system did not work too well and the mayor commented following the game that one of the first things he would do in his new position would be to get the system repaired.

The Bruins win streak was shortlived as they lost a 5-2 decision to the Waterloo Mercurys the following night in Jasper Place Arena.

Friday's game produced few scoring chances for either team in the first period and a half. Leduc's Ken Strong went off for elbowing at the 14:45 mark of the second period and with only five seconds remaining in his penalty, Bob Pearn scored on a goalmouth scramble to give Bruins a 1-0 power play lead.

One of the Bruins draft choices, Duane Overan gave St. Albert a 2-0 lead at the 1:35 mark of the third period on another power play goal with Cal McInnis sitting out a Leduc holding penalty. Craig Neeser and Jim Edwards assisted on Overan's goal while Mike Pearce helped out on Pearn's tally.

Bruins appeared to be in control of the game but a high sticking penalty to Bruin's Alex Jensen allowed Riggers to put their power play to work and a long shot from the blue line by Randy Kerdon went between Cary Winquist's legs to put Leduc back in the game. The soft goal gave Leduc a new life and three minutes later Mike Chipka scored on another shot from well out that beat Winquist to tie up the game.

Bruins scored the winning goal with only six minutes left to play when shot from the point deflected off a Leduc player and went past a startled Brian Matyshuk in the Leduc goal. Mike Pearce got credit for the goal.

The game was fairly rough with referee Al Stoll calling a total of 29 penalties, Bruins taking 15.

GARY VANTHUYNE

MIKE PIERCE

CARY WINQUIST

BOB PEARN

Penalties were the major cause of the teams loss the following night against Waterloo as the Mercurys scored three power play goals in their 5-2 win. Bruins took 18 of 30 penalties called. Last year's leading scorer Dave Martens scored three times while Perry Whan added the other two. Whan was a Bruin last year. Bruin goalie Cary Winquist was outstanding in goal as he faced 60 shots compared to only 33 by the Bruins at Waterloo goalie Ray Millar.

Bruin manager Don Parienteau was a little upset with the number of Bruin penalties and stated something would be done before the next game.

Bruins next home game will be Sunday at 7:30 p.m., against the Leduc Riggers.

FINAL NEWS IN SPORTS

Bruins scored a 5-2 win over Fort Saskatchewan Traders last night with Mike Pearce picking up a pair of goals to lead the way. Other Bruin scorers were Gary Ferguson, Bob Pearn and Gary Vanthuyne. Bruins led 3-1 at the end of the first and 4-1 at the end of the second. Miles Goodwin played a strong game in goal for St. Albert.

Junior Hockey

All junior age hockey players living in St. Albert and not playing on the Junior Bruins team wishing to play hockey in the Kinsmen Juvenile League are asked to please register as soon as possible at Town Hall Recreation office. The Kinsmen are trying to make up a third team for house league play and registration is only $15 for the entire year.

St. Albert Men's Commercial League

The St. Albert Men's Commercial League will again operate this season with Mr. Al Knight as president, Mel Knutson as secretary treasurer and Barry Rummals as statistician. The league will start the season on Thursday, October 31, in the St. Albert Arena. All games will be at 10:30 p.m.

Three new teams have entered the six team league in Gazette Flyers, The Progress Club and Midland Superior joining hold-overs Grandin Gulf, St. Albert Rogers/Grandin Esso (Teachers) and the Kinsmen Warriors. Calgary Power, Knights of Columbus and Premier Esso withdrew from the league this season.

The league will allow only two players on each team to be under the age of 25 as it is primarily for players who want to get in a little recreation without getting too serious about the game. Midland Superior are still looking for a couple of players and anyone interested can contact Roy Letain at 475-1494. The full schedule will appear in next week's Gazette.

"That's a borderline case of streaking."

Calahoo hockey registration

Boys from 6 to 16 interested in playing hockey in Calahoo this season are asked to register at the Gazebo Monday, October 28 from 6:30 to 9 p.m. All players are asked to bring a birth certificate or baptismal certificate. Any boys from the Villeneuve, Riviere, Qui Barro district interested in playing midget hockey are also asked to register so that teams may be formed. The new arena in Calahoo is expected to have ice shortly before Christmas.

Juveniles Win

The St. Albert Juvenile Double B team played their first exhibition game of the year Saturday night at Confederation Arena in Edmonton and defeated Briskerhoff Juveniles 4-3. Scoring for St. Albert was Jim Holo, Roger Meunier, Ian Langridge and Doug Cinnamon. The team is coached by John Ewen and should do well in their games leading up to the provincials.

DOLL RAFFLED AT LEGION FALL FEST

The capacity crowd at the Fall Fun Fest of the Auxiliary to the Royal Canadian Legion were delighted when little six year old Tracey Suggitt of 35 Livingstone Crescent, St. Albert won the Ladies Auxiliary Money Doll dressed in 100 one-dollar bills. She came down with her mom to receive the doll and drew an enthusiastic hand from the crowd, a sleepy but happy little girl.

Proceeds of the raffle will support the various projects of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Legion, which include assisting the Sturgeon General Hospital, the Poppy fund and the Bursaries Award program of the Alberta Command, Legion Auxiliary. This year St. Albert students were awarded two of the $250 scholarships, one to Michel Carlepy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Carlepy, and one to Karen Simpson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Simpson. Both were students at St. Albert High. Michel is in his first year in Chemical Engineering at the University of Alberta and Karen plans to be a Doctor.

The major portion of the Auxiliary work and fundraising proceeds goes to support the Legion and support of veterans hospitals has a high priority, along with the assistance given the polo fund. The St. Albert Auxiliary numbers about 50 members at present and membership is open to wives, sisters and daughters of veterans 18 years and over. A newer provision makes other interested women eligible for a fraternal affiliation, with social privileges, but as yet the local branch doesn't have any affiliate members.

Ole Kendel and the Blue-tones were on the handstand at the Community Hall for the Fall Fest and Ole also handled the emcee mike, assisted by Presidents Denny Taylor and June Kendel in making the four door prize draws. Next project for the Auxiliary gals, under Ways and Means Chairman, Shirley Sorsdahl, will be the tea, bazaar and bake sale scheduled for Sunday, Nov. 17.

Little six year old Tracey Suggitt of Flagstone Crescent was the centre of attraction when she came down to the Community Hall Saturday evening to claim the money doll her ticket won. When June Kendel, president of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Legion who sponsored the project telephoned the news to Mr. Suggitt, he told her that when Tracey went off to bed she asked him "Is this the night I win my doll?" Shirley Sorsdahl, Ways and Means chairman and Denny Taylor, Legion president also offered their congratulations.

Buyers Beware Tips

In these days of "buyer beware" the Consumers Association of Canada suggest caution and pass on these tips:

*There are numerous factors to take into account when buying meat in bulk. You should ask about percentage of waste, the exact breakdown of cuts, the percentage of ground beef, the kind of wrapping and labelling and whether it is included in the price or an "extra" and, very important, whether the meat will be blast frozen when it is delivered. The average domestic freezer can freeze only 50 lbs. of meat in 24 hours.

*Compare the quality of various cuts with the same quantity at your local supermarket's price on "specials." Did you really save taking into account freezer running costs and quality deterioration?

*If you are interested in good nutritive value for your dollar, look at the lower grades in canned fruit and vegetables. While less perfect in appearance than the "choice" brands, they are cheaper and equally nutritious.

*Pleased to see an unadvised "special" on the cheese shelf? Before you buy check the expiry date as the price may simply reflect a reduction in quality.

*Hoping for the impulse buyer, eye level shelves runtingly carry the highest priced brands. Look at each brand quickly to compare prices and the table of contents on the label.

*Vitamins deteriorate with time. If you are attracted to an unadvertised "special" in an aisle bin etc., are sale shopping, or making a routine purchase, always check the expiry date on the label to ensure that you have a reasonable time in which to use them.

More hints from the Consumers Association of Canada will be included in the next issue of the Gazette.

Nissan announces safety program

A national safety program in support of the Canada Safety Council's annual auto check-up campaign has been announced by Nissan Automobile Company (Canada) Ltd., distributors of Datsun cars and trucks. The firms is contacting all Datsun vehicle owners and offering each a free 15-minute, no - strings - attached safety inspection.

Datsun Safety week is from October 28 to November 2. Letters will be sent to each of the over 150,000 Datsun owners in Canada offering the free safety check. Datsun dealers are committed to pay the full cost of some 37,000 man-hours of trained technicians' time to conduct 150,000 inspections.

"Nissan believes in safety and we agree with the Canada Safety Council when it says 'annual safety checks will save lives'," says a Nissan spokesman. "It is our duty as automobile manufacturers and concerned corporate citizens to make a meaningful contribution to automotive safety."

"It's a very good move," says Phil Farmer, executive director of the Canada Safety Council. "We believe these periodic checks are essential and that every owner has both a legal and a moral responsibility to have his vehicle in a condition of safety."

"We estimate that eight to 10 per cent of all accidents are due to mechanical failures and practically all of those are due to lack of proper maintenance."

"The Canada Safety Council's check-up program normally begins in April," Farmer says. "We advocate this sort of thing anytime during the year and certainly feel that timing this before winter is excellent."

New policy on development appeals

St. Albert's new Town Council may refer development appeals to an appointed development appeal board in the future which is not the practice exercised by the previous councils. In the past the practice had been to hear development appeals during Committee of the Whole meetings.

At the organizational meeting held Monday, Coun. Rod Thronson moved that the development appeal board be conducted at the Committee of the Whole meeting. Coun. Breadner posed the question as to the reason why council sits in judgement on its own bylaws. Mayor Plain replied that in fact the individuals concerned were appealing to council itself and therefore the practice was logical.

The Town Administrator, R. Byron, informed council that the common practice in Ontario was to establish and appoint an appeal board which consisted of three or five members, one being a councillor. Coun. Lukay pointed out that the method mentioned by Mr. Byron allowed the public the opportunity to participate and noted that the criteria mentioned by a member of Edmonton's development appeal board for qualification to be a member of the board was that he had run for Council and had been defeated.

Coun. Thronson stated that he was in favour of the conventional practice followed by the previous councils, for the fact that the council was given an opportunity to see variance in bylaws. He maintained that the practice provided valuable information to those on Council.

Coun. Wetsch told Council that he felt that it was not the purpose of the board to educate members of council but rather it was to deal with problems in the bylaws. He told the other members present that he was in favour of an appointed body. Mr. Byron pointed out that in the municipalities where the appointed appeal board was used, the member of Council who belonged to the board acted as an information resource person for those others on Council. Coun. Thronson stated that he felt that members of Council when acting as the appeal board handled problems with more leniency than an appointed board would, and would therefore handle the situation with more humanity than would an appointed board.

Coun. Breadner moved that an amendment be placed on the original motion to the effect that the Committee of the Whole would act as an interim appeal board and Council voted 5 to 2 in favour of this motion. Mayor

Plain and Coun. Thronson were opposed to this. Coun. Breadner then moved that the Committee of the Whole act as the interim appeal board until such time as the investigation regarding the permanent appointed appeal board will be investigated.

Council voted 5 to 2 in favour of this motion, with Mayor Plain and Coun. Thronson opposed.

Joyce Reddy and Bradley Cowen preview new act

Joyce Reddy (left) and her partner in musical comedy, Bradley Cowen (right) danced and sang to several different styles of music when they previewed their new act last Saturday. In the picture they are just finishing off the Charleston routine, Maureen Sammers of Guild Hall Productions is the pair's agent.

Attractive and talented Joyce Reddy and her new partner in musical comedy, Bradley Cowen, staged a special introduction to a new act at the St. Albert Inn on Saturday. An invited group of impresarios representing several Edmonton hotels and night spots and the St. Albert Inn's representative Mr. Gord Doyle, made up the audience as Joyce and Bradley went through the lively routines they hoped would persuade those present would make a hit at night spots in the area.

Joyce is not a stranger to St. Albert and is probably well remembered for her last appearance here. Joyce has a long list of credits which include TV work, solo night club work, and an impressive dancing background. She has had ballet training (R.A.D. and CH-ECCTETI), Tap (I.D.M.A.,

I.S.T.D., and D.T.A.), green dance or natural movement (I.S.T.D.), modern dance (I.D.M.A.), ballroom and Latin American, and costume and set design.

Canada, U.S., Italy, and Britain have been toured by Joyce who has been dancing since she was four years old. She also enjoyed success as a teen-age model, and has done TV spots including the Pig 'n' Whistle.

Bradley Cowen is a newcomer to the night club scene and has been involved more in theatrical aspects of dancing. Prior to joining with Joyce in musical comedy, he was with the Barkerville Show in B.C., where he met Joyce.

Mrs. Maureen Sammers who is acting as Joyce and Bradley's agent was also on hand on Saturday to watch the pair go through routines which included familiar tunes which they sang while they danced. A part of the routine was based on a Charleston format while the latter part costumed them both as sailors. Bradley's outfit was actually worn by his father when he served in the navy.

To tell the truth one could not have found a better way to spend a Saturday afternoon, and the new act may well be appearing sometime through the season in the Edmonton area.

THEATRE 3 OPENS WITH PLAY ON DEPRESSION

Theatre 3 learned this week it will receive a special grant from the Government of Alberta's Department of Culture, Youth and Recreation in connection with its season opener, The Photographic Moment.

The grant, to the amount of $1,237.00, will be used to defray the expenses of an extra week of rehearsals for this locally scripted play about the depression.

The announcement was made in a letter from The Hon. Horst A. Schmidt, Minister of Culture, Youth and Recreation, at which time he also congratulated the Company on its continuing high standards of professional work, and its sincere effort to produce Canadian work and use Alberta actors. This grant is in addition to the annual grant from the Department, which this year amounts to $4,180.00. The Photographic Moment being given its world premiere by Theatre 3, was written by Calgary playwright Mary Humphrey Baildridge, and is set on a farm near Atlee, Alberta. The time of the play is the mid 30's, in the midst of drought and depression, and the action deals with a family struggling to survive emotionally and physically.

The play opens on Wednesday October 23, coincidentally 45 years almost to the day since the stock market crash of Thursday, October 24, 1929, which precipitated the world wide depression of the 30's.

The North Country Maine-Anjou

Mr. Cy Hayes, executive vice-president of the Sales Management Firm of Hayes and Streborg Ltd., announced October 10 that all arrangements were now complete for the North Country Maine-Anjou Sale to be held in connection with Farm Fair '74 at the Edmonton Exhibition Grounds on Tuesday, Nov. 5, 1974 at 7 p.m.

Consignments have been received from some of the top Maine-Anjou breeders right across Alberta and the majority of the cattle on offer will be the lower percentages in order to give new breeders the opportunity to take a position in the breed.

On offer at this sale will be the following quality Maine-Anjou Cattle: 4 - 3/4 blood open heifers; 22 - 1/2 blood open heifers.

All of the leading sires in the Maine-Anjou breed have been included in this offering and should present breeders with a good opportunity to pick up the bloodline of their choice.

The Maine-Anjou breed continues to set new performance records in terms of feedlot gain and carcass quality, the most recent success being registered at the Pacific National Exhibition in Vancouver, where the grand champion both in the show ring and in the carcass class was a Maine-Anjou cross steer. The results of the ROP test at Ellerslie last spring also indicated that Maine-Anjou could compete both in terms of feed conversion and average daily gain with any of the other breeds entered in this test. All of these results together with the results of recent sales of the Maine-Anjou breed indicate that the breed will be one of the strongest of the exotic breeds selling this fall and will live up to their position and reputation of the "Performance Breed".

Further details and catalogues can be obtained by contacting the Sales Managers Hayes and Streborg Ltd. at #22 - 103A - 8th Avenue, S.W., Calgary, Alta. T2P1S3 phone (403) 261-9855.

Lynne Shaw and the Jim Croft Trio the St. Albert Inn

Lynne Shaw and the Jim Croft Trio are appearing at the St. Albert Inn for the next two weekends and one should be sure to catch them while they are here.

Lynne and I had a very pleasant interview this week at the Holiday Inn in Edmonton and during the hour she told me quite a bit about herself. She was born in Belfast, Ireland, and began in the entertainment business early in her life. Her first radio show was on the BBC in Ireland when she was just 12 years old. After finishing high school she joined comedian Lex McLean and spent a year on tour in Scotland. "He heard me sing as a young soprano, not a dance band singer," she says in a gentle Irish accent, "and when I was 15 I went to Scotland with him in a musical." While in Scotland she worked with several other well known Scottish comedians such as Jack Macroy and Billy Stalt.

She came to Canada about eight years ago and lived in Toronto, active in the entertainment field in that city. It was in Toronto where Billy O'Conner, a Toronto agent hired Lynne for engagements at the Holiday Inns (as a matter of fact Lynne was the opening act at Edmonton's Holiday Inn when it opened a few years

Lynne did a number of appearances on the Pig 'N Whistle after coming to the attention of Ken Stanley, the musical director, and has many nice things to say about the personnel connected with the show. One of the Pig 'N Whistle shows which she did was a St. Patrick's Day Show and she was convinced to dance as well as sing by Roland (the Roland and Romain Dancers). "So in a case like this I felt I really had to, I said what do I have to do and he made up a fantastic dance, I was in the front and had boy girl boy girl and so on right behind me and we are all doing the same steps. I had to remember all the directions and different instructions that the producer or director had given me. It turned out well and we were delighted. As a matter of fact I saw it here in Edmonton on St. Patrick's Day and I was quite pleased with myself when I saw it." Every St. Patrick's Day the Pig 'N Whistle show does a different production for the occasion which are only shown on that day in that year. The show which Lynne appeared on was shown in 1973.

Lynne Shaw was also a fairly regular guest on the Don Messer Show which had many successful seasons on Canadian T. V. She did better than 26 guest spots on Don Messer's show. Lynne has good memories of the people she was involved with from that series.

Tommy Banks had Lynne on his radio show several times though she has not appeared on Tommy's TV show. She has also done TV commercials and does many private shows which she enjoys doing. I asked Lynne what type of performer she prefers to do best and she simply responded by saying she likes to sing love songs. She somewhat regretfully admitted that she is unable to do as many as she would like. I suspect that the reason for this is that an audience demands to have variety in a night club show such as she currently performs. Consequently you will find a bit of everything - from the lively to the contemplative - in her act.

Lynne has two recordings which have been released since she arrived in Canada. The story on these is that they contain a bit of all kinds of music, her favourites, classical Irish ballads, contemporary material, and so on. Lynne discovered that her recordings of the Vera Lynn tunes achieved popular acclaim. "The one record that I made was called Meet Lynne Shaw, I think, nothing exciting in the title. But the other one was called The Hits of the Blitz which they asked me to make for the veterans with money war songs, for remembrance sake." The record was no great hit according to Lynne but it did achieve a modest success.

Lynne is appearing at the St. Albert Inn in the Grandin Dining Lounge for the next two weekends and the Jim Croft Trio is her accompaniment. In the trio are Jim Croft who plays organ, Len Christianson on bass, and Danny Small on drums. The show is very good.

Rural ambulance service in Bon Accord could serve as model for Alberta

THE BON ACCORD Lions Club have just donated this $1500 Stationwagon to Nigel Mansfield (above), Divisional Superintendent of #634 Sturgeon Combined Division, St. John Ambulance Brigade. The vehicle will be used in the near future as an ambulance and it is hoped to gather more first aid equipment so that a first class volunteer ambulance service can be given free of charge to residents in the MD of Sturgeon.

BY TIM McINTYRE

Many people are aware of the shortcomings of rural ambulance services in rural Alberta, but in Bon Accord the solution is being tested.

When a program, such as the one being run by Nigel Mansfield, is started in one of the sparsely populated areas, it is bound to be a success. The program is being run by the Bon Accord Lions Club, which has donated a station wagon to the St. John Ambulance Brigade. The vehicle will be used in the near future as an ambulance and it is hoped to gather more first aid equipment so that a first class volunteer ambulance service can be given free of charge to residents in the MD of Sturgeon.

Mr. Mansfield states that the main reason for the success of the program is the fact that the ambulance is a first class vehicle.

What is really needed he said are the services which go with the ambulance, particularly volunteer staff who have been trained in first aid techniques.

"An old farm truck and trained people is better than a new ambulance with a driver who has no people in it," he pointed out. Mr. Mansfield is the Divisional Superintendent of #634 Sturgeon Combined Division, St. John Ambulance Brigade at Bon Accord and he is convinced that he can get better ambulance services for the whole province if the project at Bon Accord works out well. He said that if his group of volunteers were on salary they could go round the province and educate the smaller communities in this new concept of ambulance service.

But at the moment the ambulance service at Bon Accord is itself only in the embryo stages and it will be a long time before the Sturgeon Division will be able to go around the province giving the benefit of its hard earned experience.

Mr. Mansfield explained that slowly but surely the idea that smaller rural communities can have a viable low cost ambulance service is catching on at the local level.

The Village of Bon Accord has shown its good faith by giving a $100 grant to the new service and the MD of Sturgeon council recently followed up with a grant of $300. Mr. Mansfield said that the village also foots the bill for the expensive 24 hour telephone service. This works so that if there is an emergency the nearest member to the accident is called out and if the situation is serious enough then there is a general call-out.

Concerning the telephone service, Mr. Mansfield pointed out that "we want to provide this to the community at no direct cost to them."

He also emphasized that he feels it is totally unjust that patients under the provincial system are required to pay up to $40 - $60 for the ambulance service. This continued often works out to the disadvantage of the patient who would rather suffer than pay out the money required for such an expensive service. Following the philosophy of the original Knights of St. John who founded a charitable hospital at the time of the great white plague in 1518, Mr. Mansfield believes the rural ambulance service should be supplied free. Under his system, he said, the initial cost will be absorbed and compensated to what it would cost under a Government scheme.

It all depends how successful you are at the community level. Unfortunately, the $400 that the Sturgeon Brigade Division has received from village council and the MD of Sturgeon, while it is a great help, will not pay the higher expenses of running the volunteer ambulance service.

As Mr. Mansfield said, the money only be enough to pay the insurance costs of an ambulance facility for one year.

But it is at the grass roots community level that the Sturgeon Combined Division has had the most success. Property in the Sturgeon Division is being donated to the St. John Ambulance and the MD of Sturgeon will soon be ready for the road service stations in the community have promised to give free residences to the ambulance and pay will also be given at cost.

If this sort of success were repeated province wide and the Sturgeon ambulance service were well manned with adequately trained personnel, the days of taking a trip out to the nearest hospital or a far away hospital at great expense to the patient will be over.

a well trained body of volunteers ready to hit the scene of an accident at a moment's notice.

If the patient is administered first aid, in the case of a heart attack, or severe loss of blood, then there is every chance he will make it in better condition to the nearest hospital than if he were exposed to a well meaning but unqualified ambulance driver.

Mr. Mansfield, who has sent his proposals for an improved rural ambulance service to the Provincial Government, ultimately envisages each rural community dovetailing in with a fleet of provincial or regional ambulance and rescue vehicles. They would have the distinctive St. John livery and they could be manned by up to 10 volunteers from each community.

They in turn would be fitted out with special kits, known as jump kits which include basic first aid equipment and which are also used by the Canadian Armed Forces.

Mr. Mansfield, who has already been at the scene of a few accidents in the locality, says that the white St. John Ambulance Brigade Jacket gets an immediate response from those at the scene of an accident whether they are of the RCMP or the person involved in the crash.

"Accidents seem to come in threes," Mr. Mansfield continued, "and the first accident was on Highway 26 at the level crossing. The police called us in, but we didn't do as good a job as we could have done if we'd had more training."

Winter time will pose its own special problems for the Bon Accord ambulance volunteers and Mr. Mansfield said that he has already put out feelers to local snowmobile merchants to help out in this regard.

Eventually the service could be a truly year round operation 24 hours a day covering accidents on the highway, the home and farm. In the accidents which the Sturgeon Combined Division has covered so far "boozers" has been involved in all of them." Also Mr. Mansfield recalled that last January a young Indian had had been run over on a district road one mile east of Bon Accord and it had taken the ambulance 1 1/4 hours to get there. "If they had called out the volunteers we'd have been there in quarter of an hour," said Mr. Mansfield.

At the moment Bon Accord, Mr. Mansfield pointed out is the only rural community with full emergency service under a St. John Ambulance Division. Six more have been proposed and there is already another Ambulance Division at Shorwood Park though this is not fully equipped with emergency services.

It looks as though Morinville could be the next community north of Edmonton to go for the St. John Ambulance full emergency service and there have already been meetings between the Board of Trade in that community and the Sturgeon Combined Division. Ray Gibson, president of the Board of Trade says he will be having a private meeting in his home this week together more information on the low cost emergency service.

Meanwhile, in Bon Accord, the search for more money and more medical equipment goes on. In the hope that the rest of the province will see the sense of the ambulance service project there as opposed to the hodge podge in the rest of Alberta.

Following is a list of those who are manning the emergency facility in Bon Accord: Donna Popjes, Carol Wykes, Janice McDonald, Sherry Morrison, Paul Mansfield, Joe Milligan, Keith Yuen Jung, Doug Hansen and Bob Laine. A section has just been added to the service and the following persons are manning it: Bill Reynolds, Duncan McDouall, Jimmy George, Bart Webster and Lynn Knoch.

MD of Sturgeon will present brief on right to tie in on water line

Sixteen MD of Sturgeon property owners will back up the MD November 12 when they present a brief to the Local Authorities Board hearing in St. Albert on the right to hook up into a proposed water line.

The line would be located in sections 35 and 36 of the MD bounded by St. Albert to the west, 153 Avenue to the south and 127 Street to the east. It would supply

City water to the residents of St. Albert and will be able to serve an increase of 10,000 in the town's population within the next few years.

The decision to present the brief was taken Monday night after a two hour meeting between the MD council and 25 residents who live within a mile either side of the proposed Edmonton North water line.

The 25 who attended the meeting elected their own representatives to hand over the brief. They are Charlie Dixon and Aaron Falconberg. The terms outlined in the brief state that the MD property owners support the conditions for approval of the line, chief among which are:

*A written agreement with the Authority that Sturgeon property owners have the right to hook up on the proposed water line.

"That the Town of St. Albert assumes the liabilities caused by construction of the line.

*That the road allowance affected by the line's construction would be restored to satisfaction.

The brief also pointed out that in St. Albert's original application to the LAB, the request for the easement on MD property was made without reference to the conditions set out by the MD.

During Monday night's meeting Councillor Lawrence Kluthe said that the City of Edmonton did not seem to mind MD residents trucking city water back to their property but when the water was piped right at the doorstep their attitude was "we won't let you take it."

Reeve of the MD Bill Flynn said this could be a method of annexation.

Seventy per cent of the group at the meeting said they were still hauling water from the City at what can be termed exorbitant rates compared to what people pay on a piped water system. One MD property owner at the meeting claimed it cost $8.50 to truck every 1000 gallons of water from the city back home. This was compared with $1.80 per 1000 gallons for those using the Fort Saskatchewan North East water line and a city rate of 65 cents per 1000 gallons.

"What have we got to lose by asking for the hook-up?" asked one voice from the floor.

The main emphasis from the MD council at the meeting was that the property owners should at least have the right to tie in to the proposed water line if they so wished. Yet this is flat contradiction of a City Commissioner's recommendation that residents of the MD in sections 35 and 36 should not be allowed to hook up into the proposed line.

Councillor Kluthe said that even if the hearing in St. Albert went against the MD, "the private individual had the ace on what kind of agreement they will enter with St. Albert as far as getting water off the line was concerned." Reeve Flynn said that if an agreement couldn't be reached then the problem would have to go to arbitration.

Councillor Kluthe added that there were other alternatives like a Co-op system to get a better water supply. "But," he pointed out, "the main thing is that the Local Authorities Board deals with the individual's right to tie in on the line - and it ends there as far as the Board is concerned."

Whatever happens at the hearing it looks as if it might be tough going because Edmonton has made it clear already that it is not prepared to accept the MD's conditions concerning the water line. It therefore advised that St. Albert applied to the LAB under Section 276 of the Local Authorities Act to expropriate the land in the MD for the water line.

The meeting ended with the MD council taking the signatures of 16 MD property owners who wanted to tie in to the proposed water line with the MD's support. The signatures were included in the brief which will be presented to the LAB hearing November 12.

Van Noord will fight for teens recreation and better water supply

It's Mrs. Hannelore Van Noord's first time ever on the Village of Gibbons council and she's determined to improve things for the community she told the Gazette Monday.

Mrs. Van Noord came to Gibbons two years ago and she's the mother of six children.

She said that water is still the big problem for the village.

age but after that, she says the next thing that could do with improvement is recreation for teens in the community.

But on the water problem Mrs. Van Noord said she felt the Provincial Government should definitely be giving more help on improving the water supply. "We are paying more for it percentage wise than those in the City," she said.

She also pointed out there was a big health risk in the water which comes from the nearby Sturgeon River.

"Bacteria have been found, and it was unsafe enough for it to be closed down the weekend of Sept. 1. We were all told not to use it and it was highly chlorinated, but then afterwards it was just as bad," she said.

"Some people have got sick on it," she continued, "and recently a four-year-old child caught viral pneumonia (from drinking the water)."

Mrs. Van Noord said the village should have a doctor permanently stationed there, a facility which it doesn't have right now.

She said the advantage of this would be that village residents could get their symptoms from taking village water checked right on the spot and they would not have to take journeys out to neighboring towns for treatment.

"We can't get to grips with the problem if there is no doctor in the village and all the families are going out for treatment," she said.

She admitted that various Government agencies were now really on to the problem but complained that they had not always been consistent in their diagnosis in the past.

"If an official tells you it's OK, (the water) why should you go to another? Now the Department of the Environment says it's not good," she added.

She pointed out that costs for a new water treatment system had so far proved prohibitive. It would cost the village $400,000 to tie in with the Edmonton water line and this to service just 600 people. Mrs. Van Noord said a North East Water Board official had complained of lukewarm response from the city as far as helping with the proposed tie-in.

She also thought that if plans were going ahead for a $10 million upgrading of the Red Deer and Calgary water system, surely something could be done for those living in The Redwater-Fort Saskatchewan area, particularly where the health of residents was a concern.

Mrs. Van Noord said her second biggest concern was to get better recreation for the teens of the community. She complained of a rising tide of violence in the community, a direct result of teens not having any place to go or a worthwhile hobby to keep them occupied.

"We need them off the street," she said, "and if we don't do something fast enough another bunch will be coming up. They're getting dangerous and our windows could be smashed in."

She told the Gazette that the Recreation Board (of which she is secretary-treasurer) had recently had a big meeting with town council about moving the old CN building into the village. It would be used she said as a centre for senior citizens and also as a drop-in centre for teens.

However Mrs. Van Noord pointed out that when the plan was presented to the MD Recreation Board it was agreed that funds up to $10,000 should be made available for the building's use as a centre for senior citizens, but "not two dollars would be available for teens."

"This is my big scream," Mrs. Van Noord complained.

Charles Slater, another new face on the village of Gibbons council said this week he would be playing it by ear for the first month or so and would not be crusading on any issues. "We only need a decision on which way to go on water," he said.

Another new member on council is Donald Brown of Gibbons. He was not available for comment at the time of going to press.

Following is a list of those now serving on the village council including an indication of the votes for successful and unsuccessful candidates. The new Mayor will be chosen at council's organizational meeting Oct. 23.

Ronald Smith (148), Donald Brown (138), Charles Slater (124), D. "Snip" Loblick (119), Hannelore Van Noord (105).

The three candidates not elected to council were: Wilfred Cline (91), Spencer Holmes (86) and Ernest Crockett (66).

HUBERT LAMOREUX

Hubert Lamoureux will be sitting on the MD of Sturgeon No. 90 council this time around after his first attempt at municipal politics.

During the election campaign Mr. Lamoureux's emphasis on his newness on the political scene, coupled with his desire to help people and their problems seems to have paid dividends.

He'll be taking the seat vacated by former councillor for Division One of the MD, Ed Courchesne, who did not opt for re-election this term.

Mr. Lamoureux beat off opposition from Walter Pasnak and Jack Thorpe all residents in area one of the MD. He totalled 152 votes.

Mr. Thorpe 87 and Mr. Pasnak 73.

Goldenagers

The senior citizens of Calahoo find great joy in meeting bi-monthly for togetherness and fun at their regular gatherings in the Gazebo. Since Mr. Main of the New Horizons met with Dina Groppe, Addie Thatcher and Laura Boddez to negotiate a grant for this Calahoo group, a list of the 1975 executive was required so a general meeting was called on Sept. 25 to elect same.

This is the order in which they will serve the 1975 term with present term to expire December 31. President - Mrs. John Thatcher; 1st vice-pres., Mrs. John Groppe; 2nd vice-pres., Mrs. Vance Berry; 3rd vice-pres., Mrs. James Verbeek; secretary, Mrs. Myles Kerr; treasurer, Mrs. James Verbeek; entertainment committee -- Mr. and Mrs. John Thatcher; Mrs. Theda Verbeek and Mrs. C. Lina Bergstrelser; lunch committee, Mrs. Clara Loyler and Mrs. Arvilla Majeau.

Then on October 9, 27 happy folks gathered in the Gazebo to renew friendships have so much fun playing cards and bingo before that always pleasant lunch hour in this beautiful October sunshine.

The next meeting will be on October 23 in the Gazebo at 1:30 p.m. Everyone is welcome.

committee, sending cards to members who are ill or hospitalized. Another: Mr. Charles Sooley of Onaway, also a Calahoo member agreed to take this chore. Also since sometimes all members are not present then the authority to sign cheques can be with two of the top positions -- president, secretary and treasurer.

The Constitution was discussed and the group will adopt one of their own. The treasurer's report shows there were 51 members for 1974 until this general meeting when Mrs. Phillip Miller of Onaway joined Calahoo's group making 52 members now.

The next meeting will be on October 23 in the Gazebo at 1:30 p.m. Everyone is welcome.

I'll do my best, says Lamoureux

"I got their votes and sure don't want to disappoint them."

Those were the words of newly elected member to the MD of Sturgeon council Hubert Lamoureux as he spoke to the Gazette about his first successful venture into municipal politics this Fall. Councillor Lamoureux takes over from Ed Courchesne who did not seek office this time round.

"All I can say is that I thank the people who supported me and I'll be open at all times to talk with the people and get their ideas and complaints," he said. "I've been busy and still have a lot to study but I'll do my best to see the people get the most out of their tax dollars," Mr. Lamoureux added.

He said he feels the experience working on the MD council should be interesting and beneficial. Mr. Lamoureux will step into the political arena October 25 when the MD council hold their organizational meeting.

GLENN BERRY

Division Four, incumbent Glenn Berry came out tops with 262 votes over Stan Walker's 200.

In Division Five Councillor Lawrence Kluth remains in the seat by acclamation; this is also the case for Walter Van de Walte in Division Six and Walter Jermain in Division Seven.

Polling for the MD of Sturgeon No. 90 was not heavy according to Returning Officer Jim Sharpe.

Archie Jenkins mayor of Bon Accord

Former town secretary of Bon Accord, Archie Jenkins, was elected Mayor of that village at council's organizational meeting Monday night.

He takes over from the previous mayor W. H. Deedman who was defeated in the municipal elections October 16th.

Ken Fearnley was voted in as Deputy Mayor of the village.

Before the October election

there had been record interest in Bon Accord on Nominations Day with 10 people filing nominations for five places on council. Previously village business had been conducted by two councillors, but recently it had been found necessary to increase the size of the council to five.

On election day there was a near 60 per cent turn out of voters - 231 out of 401 turning out to cast their ballot on the day.

Mayor Jenkins told the Gazette this week that his main aim on council would be to keep the village "looking nice" and he would try and continue orderly growth. He would make sure that the village did not have too deep a debt and that taxes would not be too high.

Mr. Jenkins, who left the town administration last year with health problems relating to an accident in an oil fire 27 years ago, said it was the work load which made him quit as town secretary but friends had persuaded him to have a crack at town council. He said everyone was proud of Bon Accord and wanted to keep it that way.

Other new councillors are also determined to see that the village develops in the right way. Nigel Mansfield said that council this year was all new and said that he personally thought that Bon Accord was one of the prettiest places to live. He said he was all for the quality of life being improved and "not destroyed for growth's sake."

Councillor Terry Murphy told the Gazette this week that everyone seemed to be on an agreement about orderly growth "so there should be no problems on council." He said it was also his first time on council and he was glad of the chance to maintain the unique atmosphere of Bon Accord.

Councillor Keith Whitson said that council was a new thing for him but that he would do his best in the coming three years to fight for orderly growth.

Following are the results of the Bon Accord election; the first five candidates of the list were elected to council.

Archie Jenkins, 190; Keith Whitson, 136; Ken Fearnley, 131; Terry Murphy, 134; Nigel Mansfield, 115; Charles Hill, 96; Helen McKenzle, 79; Robert Lane, 79; W. H. Deedman, 62; John West, 56.

Graduation exercises mark special milestone for Legal students

By Lucienne Montpetit

The Legal Students Union and the school choir had many weeks of planning, organizing, rehearsing which culminated in a day of excitement and pride for the Graduates of Legal School. On October 12 at 4 p.m., 19 graduates were honoured at a mass celebrated by Father Croteau (due to the absence of Father Bissanette) with the school choir singing the mass and rendering many appropriate selections for the occasion. After mass some 220 friends and relatives of the graduates gathered at the Community Hall for a banquet.

Pat Montpetit president of the Students' Union called upon Father Croteau to say Grace, then welcomed the large crowd in attendance. She introduced the head table with special guests Mr. and Mrs. Guy Farly also the well known MP for Pembina Peter Elzinga and Mrs. Elzinga.

Mr. Tony Dipinto, school teacher, presented the toast to the graduates.

At 7 p.m. the exercise began in the attractively decorated gymnasium at the school illustrating the graduation theme "Time" with a huge 16' x 16' clock on the south wall. Pat welcomed everyone who came to congratulate and honour the graduating class of 1973-74. Pat briefly explained the theme and said, we cannot turn back the hands of time, these 12 wonderful years you have passed in school can only be reminisced but never lived over again. Remembering the good old days seems like a dream. Time comes, goes and can never be recaptured. Memories are what make you realize that school days weren't so bad after all. Graduation is the conclusion of work, fun, a milestone passed and new things will begin.

Each graduate was introduced alternately by Richard Van de Walle (social convenor) and Pat. They had pertinent remarks on their achievements as the graduates were escorted through a seven foot arch, decorated with huge pink flowers and on to receive their diploma from Mr. Keane, principal, and were given a long stem natural red rose.

The graduates are: Doris Auger, Jocelyne Chamberland, Paulette Cloutier, Lorraine De Champlain, Dolores Forcade, Michael Kallal, Marguerite Montpetit, Marcel Regimbald, Robert St. Arnaud, Clement Blanchette Sylvia Charrois, Jennette Cornells, Paul De Champlain, Elizabeth Hulyk, Juliette Laforce, Brigitte Rauch Daniel Rivard, Cecile Tieule and Grace Zillinski.

Mr. Dixon Keane brought greetings and congratulations on behalf of the school and the teaching staff. He complimented Pat on the fine work she did in organizing the graduation also all those who helped in making it the success that it was. He told the graduates that school days were over, it was now another stepping stone in life. The requisites in life are honesty, purity, unselfishness and love, also to be of service to others, respect them and respect yourselves. You will achieve your goal with hard work and humility, he said.

Mr. Roger Prefontaine, vice-chairman of the school board extended congratulations from the board members and the parents. Delightful entertainment was provided by Marie and Juliette St. Martin with a vocal number entitled "Les Bicyclettes de Belzile".

Mr. Joseph Nault, mayor, brought his congratulations and best wishes on behalf of his colleagues and from the Village of Legal.

Mrs. Laurence Farly, chairman of the ACFA Regional, spoke in French. She said it was always a pleasure for her to come back to Legal, especially for this special occasion to address the graduates. She said, the chapter you have completed was a very happy one, now you have to go out in this big wonderful world and orient yourselves in your new careers, for life is a daily voyage in pursuit of your ambitions and happiness. She stressed the advantages of being bilingual and told the students to be proud of their French culture. She ended by wishing them a happy graduation and "may this glad occasion only be the start of fulfillment of your wishes."

Valdettorianas chosen by the class were Paulette Cloutier who addressed the audience in French while Michael Kallal spoke in English. Their valdettorian speeches were very well rendered.

Guest speaker Mr. Peter Elzinga MP for Pembina said "he was indeed delighted to be back in Legal not just as a member of parliament but as a friend. He said he recalled his graduation and found that you are two people within yourself. You have to deal with conflict between the good and the bad. You graduates hold the key and you are to decide as what the odds are to be. You have the responsibility to put values in good perspective. The art of life is striving to make every year a good contribution to your society and people who surround you. Mr. Elzinga told the graduates if they needed any help from him as an MP not to hesitate to contact him.

He asked for the names and addresses of all the graduates and said he would forward them each a pin with the Canadian flag.

He also presented the school with a flag. Richard and Pat presented the guest speakers with a token of appreciation on behalf of the Students' Union.

Pat thanked their devoted, courageous and patient principal for all his help and encouragement, also to Mrs. Germaine Nault for her continued dedication in helping plan the beautiful decorations for the graduation.

Mr. Keane assisted by Roger Prefontaine proceeded with the presentation of awards.

The choir closed the exercises by singing May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You. The evening wound up with a well attended formal dance at the school gymnasium. The Twilites played for the enjoyment of everyone.

Last week Bill C-12, West Coast Grain Handling Operations Act, 1974, was passed. The Act provides for the resumption of grain handling operations on the west coast of Canada.

Since January 1974 the Government has witnessed the west coast grain industry going down the drain. The existing collective agreements, which cover approximately five hundred grain elevator employees, expired on November 30, 1973. Initial attempts to reach a new collective agreement proved fruitless and as a result, The Minister of Labour, The Honourable John Munro, appointed Dr. Neil Perry of The University of Victoria, B.C. as a conciliation commissioner. Dr. Perry's report was received at the end of April. The recommendations of the report were accepted by the union but rejected by the companies, the result being a complete impasse. The impossibility of further negotiations indicated the certainty of a work stoppage. Grain elevator companies posted lay-off notices in August and as a direct result, the unions withdrew their services and mounted picket operations. Both the Minister of Labour and the Minister of Justice, The Honourable Ollivier, deemed the complete breakdown of grain-handling operations insufficient reason for recalling parliament. The situation, they claimed, was serious, but not drastic enough to have national consequences. Farmers would suffer economically but the country as a whole would not be greatly disturbed.

The fact is that the situation has both national and international consequences. W. face a strike that has been going on for six weeks, a strike that is having an adverse effect on the entire economy and particularly on the well-being of the wheat producers in western Canada. The main losers in this industrial conflict have been the farmers. Demurrage charges for ships waiting in western ports are costing farmers a tremendous amount of money. Exported tant sums are being paid for the storage of wheat, wheat that should rightly be injected into the economy. There is a backlog in the delivery of grain to elevators. Last year's grain is presently being stored in the elevators thus making it impossible to move this year's crop. The strike is affecting our international relations in that we are unable to honour commitments to other countries and our reputation in the international community is suffering accordingly.

In its new legislation, the Government is proposing an hourly basic wage increase of 87¢ in the first year and of 65¢ in the second year of a two-year agreement. The base rate now is $4.96 an hour. This means that in 1975 the grain handlers will be earning $6.46 per hour, a total increase of $1.52 over their present hourly wage.

In view of our present economic situation, the inflationary aspect of this wage settlement seems preposterous. The Government merely adopted the recommendations put forth by the conciliation commissioner without considering other alternatives. Surely if essential services are to have the right to strike, there should be a more efficient method of effecting a settlement, a method whereby services would be resumed without undue delay.

Perhaps compulsory arbitration, that is the mandatory settlement of a dispute by an individual appointed by the two parties, should be instituted in work stoppages involving essential services. A similar alternative might be the establishment of a "committee for arbitration," such committee to be composed of totally impartial individuals. This committee would be somewhat analogous to a jury in a courtroom situation. Remember the old adage, "Two heads are better than one."

A further alternative might be increases based on individual merit rather than an across-the-board settlement.

Maybe compelled progressive increases might prove a viable alternative. This would mean that instead of an "x%" percent increase across the board, the percentage increase would be based on the present salary. The individuals earning a lower salary would receive a greater percentage increase than those whose current earnings are higher; the increase would be more meaningful to the junior employees. This manner of settlement would be a more equitable one and in the long run might serve as a partial deterrent for the increasing number of salary demands so familiar to us today. The so-called "earnings lower salaries" would be more consistent with their increases for a longer period of time.

I have presented here only a few alternatives that might result in a more effective method of wage settlement. There are others. I would welcome any suggestions you might have, for only through a thorough examination of possible solutions are we going to be able to bring about a fairer system. Please send me your ideas.

Making ends meet

By Pat Doerksen,
District Home Economist
MAKING ENDS MEET:

"Nobody was ever meant to remember or invent what he did with every cent."

Most people shy away from budgeting. Some say they tried it once, that it was a failure, and they think it will be again. Some believe it may cause more family quarrels about money. Some believe it may tie them down too much; others think it is too complicated and that it involves too much tricky bookkeeping. Still others object on the grounds that it won't increase savings or that nobody else does it. True? Misconceptions?

A budget is a plan for spending money. A budget is made beforehand. It is not a record of how you spent your money. It is suggested that one should plan a budget once a year with a five year plan for more long-range goals.

A budget must be flexible. Bring all the family into the planning. Be specific about what you want to do. Keep it simple. Don't expect to follow the expenditures of the average person. Work out what YOU want. Plan for large expense items so that you are not caught by an unexpected expense. Don't try and keep track of every penny unless you get a lot of fun out of adding up columns of figures or have a mania for being exact. No one else will. Have a slash fund for ordinary spending.

It is estimated that a university graduate will earn $860,000 in a lifetime and a high school graduate will earn $500,000. That's a lot of money to spend without thinking or planning.

Remember that the aim of budgeting is to create a little more happiness, not a little more gloom. Saving can be compared to mountain climbing; the goal is easy to see and often seems easily attainable, but the route is difficult and many fresh starters later fall by the wayside. Willpower! That's the word to keep in front of you.

Namao Haplette Club will sponsor a shower in the Community Hall on Wednesday, October 30 at 8:30 p.m. in honour of Miss Carolyn Stacey, bride elect of Kenneth Okerman. They will be married on November 9.

By Liz McLeod

On a beautiful sunny Sunday afternoon October 13 in the Villeneuve Hall a miscellaneous shower was held for Miss Annette Belanger, Robert and Jean's daughter from Villeneuve.

Pink and white streamers and bells graced the wall behind the honoured table with a picture with its tablecloth designed with showers and umbrellas and an ornamental umbrella in white with pinky orange trim on the table under which was placed a bride's cake, all decorated in green and yellow with the inscription

"To The Bride" wrote it in icing.

The well over 100 ladies and children present certainly enjoyed the games of bingo played before it was time to open the many beautiful and useful gifts that were admired by all present. Mrs. Debouls won the door prize.

Of course the ribbons and bows were fashioned into one of the most beautiful bouquets I've seen, with streamers falling to the waist over Annette's lovely long hair. While modelling this bouquet, Annette had some well chosen words, thanking all present for this lovely afternoon, all the gifts and special thanks to her great-aunt's for making this day such a memorable one.

It was also very nice to have four generations present, with Annette's great grandmother, Mrs. Belanger (who now resides in St. Albert's Youville Home) present.

Also present from Manville, B.C., and a cousin of Adelaide Paquette's, Mrs. Laurette Paine came with the groom to be's aunt's, Pauline and Yvonne from Edmonton where she was visiting.

The Firemen's Ball will be held on October 25, 1974. Tickets still available.

The annual meeting of the Morinville Frontier Daze Association will be held on Tuesday, November 12, at the International Building in Morinville, commencing at 8 p.m. The Financial Report for the current year will be presented. To ensure a successful 1975 Fair, Frontier Daze needs YOU, your NEW IDEAS, and your HELP. Be concerned - attend this important annual meeting.

Due to lack of sufficient positive response there will be NO HALLOWEEN PARTY. At the regular meeting of the Morinville Recreation Board held October 17, 1974 the questionnaires which had been returned from the schools were carefully perused. All "Comments" from parents in favour of a party or otherwise were taken into consideration and more parental participation would be necessary if the project to go ahead. It is unfortunate in many ways that more parents did not express an opinion. For it is on this basis that decisions such as this must be made.

Mr. and Mrs. Adelard Gaucher and foster daughter Marlene of Wandering River Alberta are newcomers to Morinville. Mr. Gaucher was a farmer in Wandering River. We would like to welcome the family to Morinville.

ville and hope they will enjoy living in our growing town.

The First Browne pack of Morinville went on a Hay Ride, October 12. The hay rack that was used is owned by Mr. Himschoot. Hay was provided by Mr. and Mrs. Sacher. The tractor is owned by Mr. Ed Kryskow. Mr. Ken Cowler drove the tractor. A nice turnout was there to enjoy the fun. And after the hay ride lunch was provided by Mrs. Judy Clarke. The girls and mothers all had a wonderful time.

We are sorry to hear Mrs. Clarence Steffes is in the St. Albert Hospital again. Do hope you get home soon, Kay.

Mrs. George Bulger is also in the St. Albert Hospital with a bad case of the flu. Do hope we see her up and about soon.

We understand the Infant son of Mr. and Mrs. John Knorr will be home soon from a long stay in the hospital.

There was a very large turnout of the tiny tot meeting October 17. It was refreshing to see so many mothers interested in getting something off the ground once an idea was started. Thank you ladies.

The Regional Recreation Board is offering something new and exciting for young children in Morinville. Creative dancing takes a whole new look at dancing and body movement. It will be taught by Jan Gibeau, Cathy Corle and Colette Gibeau, who have recently taken a course in Jasper. Registration fee for seven months will be $2.50 or $3., depending on the enrollment. Ages range from 3 - 12 years. Registration will be taken on Tuesday, October 29 at the Morinville Rec. Centre at 7 p.m.

Get beef cows in good condition before breeding

Re-issued from

Wally Klatt's office.

Dr. W. N. Harries strongly advises cattlemen whose beef cows are in poor condition to do everything they can to get them into good condition before the breeding season starts. Dr. Harries is head of the Alberta Veterinary Services Laboratory at Lethbridge.

He reports that because of feed shortages and the long cold, winter, many beef cows in the province are in poor condition this spring. He suggests giving these animals up to eight or 10 pounds of barley per head per day, plus one pound of a 32 percent protein supplement, depending upon their condition and the quality of hay being fed. If you prefer, you can use range cubes or a similar product instead of the protein supplement.

Dr. Harries advises delaying your breeding program until the herd has got back into condition on grass, if you are unable to obtain enough feed to build up the condition of thin cattle between now and the time they are bred. He also warns against overstocking pastures and suggests that in some cases it may be necessary to thin out a herd to avoid overstocking.

Heifers are the animals that are particularly susceptible to breeding problems when they are undernourished, and those that are lactating are the most vulnerable of all. If they are in poor condition, they will not be able to meet the requirements of recovering from calving, maintaining their growth and suckling their calves, and their breeding performance will suffer. Their ovaries will remain inactive and they may not show heat until later in the summer. They may come into heat normally but not conceive, and, thus, become a repeat breeder for a varying period of time.

Mature cows that just managed to survive the winter will be similarly affected, Dr. Harries says. The results will be a poor calf crop or a long, drawn-out calving period, depending upon how late the breeding program is continued. In addition, a great deal of valuable semen will be wasted on repeated breedings.

According to Dr. Harries, calf losses have been heavy in some southern Alberta herds that were built up last summer with heifers bred for 'exotic' calves. These losses, which resulted from abortions, still births, weak calves and scouring calves, were often blamed on inadequate calving facilities, a shortage of labor, infections and lack of immunity. However, Dr. Harries believes that poor nutrition was at the bottom of a good percentage of them. Poor nutrition was also a basic cause of many of the calving losses in mature cows that suffered from infections, etc.

Dr. Harries also recommends vaccinating beefcows against infectious bovine rhinotracheitis (IBR or red-nose) and vibriosis. The former was the biggest single cause of infectious abortions last winter and vibriosis is still prevalent in certain areas of the province.

"Check your cattle carefully during the breeding season," advises Dr. Harries, "and, if necessary, extend it to cover animals which are slow to come into heat or to conceive. You can get further details on this subject from your veterinarian, your district agriculturist or your animal nutritionist."

Brucellosis control

Re-issued from

Wally Klatt's office.

"Both dairy and beefcattlemen can play an important part in eradicating brucellosis in this province," says Dr. H. N. Vance, director of the Alberta Department of Agriculture's Veterinary Services Division.

This test entails having blood tests done on cows, vaccinating heifer calves, submitting aborted fetuses for laboratory diagnosis and having market cattle tested when slaughtered. Although brucellosis is the responsibility of the federal government's Health of Animals Branch, Dr. Vance stresses that every Alberta cattlemen can do a great deal himself to control and eventually eradicate brucellosis.

Since an animal carrying the brucellosis organism does not show any external symptoms, a blood test or a milk ring test are the only ways of determining its presence. Herds become infected through the direct contact of an infected and a susceptible animal. The organism then spreads through the cattle via the feed and water and by a healthy animal licking an infected one. There is no cure for the disease.

Brucellosis control is obtained through vaccinating heifer calves (both dairy and beef) that are between three to eight months of age, but preferably between the ages of three to six months. It is up to each cattlemen to decide whether or not he wants to protect his herd by vaccinating his heifer calves.

"To avoid introducing brucellosis into your herd, buy blood-tested animals that are brucellosis free," advises Dr. Vance. "If a new animal has been blood-tested, isolate it and have it tested by your local veterinarian. Do not return it to the herd until you have been assured that it is free from brucellosis."

Brucellosis abortions usually occur two to four months after exposure to the organism, and first calfheifers are generally quite susceptible to the disease. The aborted fetus should be submitted to a veterinary diagnostic laboratory for diagnosis.

Market cattle will be blood tested at the packing plant upon the owner's request. This practice is recommended since it provides a constant check on the herd's health.

"If brucellosis is suspected in your herd, contact your local Health of Animals' sub-district veterinarian," says Dr. Vance.

Buying a leather coat

By Pat Doerksen,

District Home Economist

The luxurious feel and wholesome smell of leather has sold many a leather coat. Leather is increasing in popularity in outerwear for both men and women.

POINTS TO CONSIDER:

Quality -

"Only on the good judgement of a reputable sales person, shop around and ask questions in a variety of stores. Although this can prove confusing, you should get similar answers from several sources.

"Price is generally an indication of quality - but not always. Price is relative to the amount of leather and amount of labour involved in the garment.

"Women's coats are generally made from goat or lamb skins. These are soft, supple, luxurious leathers. Men's coats are usually made from cowhide which is thicker and more rugged.

"Leather garments will wear longer than any other fabric. Stretching and soiling may deteriorate the appearance, but with proper care and professional cleaning the good appearance can be maintained for years.

"Leathers of equal quality can vary in feel and appearance. The difference is in the type of hide (goat, lamb, etc.) and in the tanning process it has undergone. This is an area where a reliable salesperson can identify quality and the reasons for the differences.

"Within one garment, all panels or sections should be of similar weight and appearance.

Property - Husband and Wife

By Pat Doerksen

District Home Economist

The Institute of Law Research and Reform from the University of Alberta are presently working on the issue of matrimonial property.

For instance Marsha and John could be a couple in your neighborhood. During their marriage they both work hard to make a good life for themselves and their children. Marsha is the homemaker, while John earns the money to pay for family expenses. Together Marsha and John gradually build up property - furniture, appliances, a car, perhaps a house, or even a parcel of land. All the family use and enjoy this property.

A time comes when Marsha and John no longer get along well. They decide to part ways. Marsha wants some of the property they have acquired. John says it belongs to him because he earned the money to pay for it. Under the law John is right. Marsha finds this unfair. What do you think?

The subject of matrimonial property is dealt with more fully in a Working Paper put out by the Institute of Law Research and Reform - Alberta's law reform agency. The Institute wants to hear your views before it asks the government to change the law. We urge you to write for a copy of the Institute's Working Paper on Matrimonial Property, read it carefully, discuss it with others, and submit your ideas as a group or as an individual.

This topic may not concern YOU today, but what about the rest who are presently in the process of dividing matrimonial property? Will each get a "fair deal" as the rulings stand now?

Questionnaires on this subject are available at this office. Why not send for one now?

Alberta - Japan exchange offers fine opportunity for qualified dairymen

By R. H. Berry,

Ass't. District Agriculturist

Dr. Hugh Horner, Alberta Minister of Agriculture recently announced an increase in the travel subsidy for dairymen and other dairy personnel qualified and interested in the Alberta - Japanese Dairy Exchange Program.

This program is designed to increase the personal knowledge of the participants, and to increase the knowledge and awareness of the people of each country and its culture.

At the present time, eight Japanese dairymen are in Alberta, and a Japanese instructor is expected to arrive shortly. As yet, there are no Alberta dairymen taking advantage of this program.

The subsidy program announced is: 40 per cent of travel expenses for a stay in Japan of six months - 50 per cent for a seven month's stay, and so on up to 100 per cent of travel expenses for a stay of 12 months. (Maximum length of stay is 12 months, minimum is six months).

While in Japan, the dairyman will live with a Japanese family, receiving a wage of $400 a month. The Japanese standard wage for this work is about $75 a month. The Alberta Department of Agriculture will make up the difference.

Qualifications required are that the candidate must have a good knowledge of practical dairying - including feeding, management, breeding, and handling farm equipment.

A minimum of two years experience on a dairy farm is generally considered to be minimum. Anyone interested in spending six to 12 months on a Japanese Dairy Farm, or as a professor, research worker or instructor in Japan should contact Alberta's Dairy Commissioner, Fred Hutchings, Box 6120, Provincial Building, Wetaskiwin; Charlie Chesbro, Head of Alberta's Agriculture's Rural (Resources Branch, Agricultural Building, 9718-107 Street, Edmonton, or your local District Agriculturist.

JERRY POTTS

Jerry Potts, half white, half Indian, was hired by Lieut. Col. French in Fort Benton, Montana. His knowledge of the language and culture of the Blackfoot Nation proved invaluable in the early years of the Force in Alberta. He was, in fact, a very unusual man for that time . . . for he was respected by both the Blackfoot and the Mounties. Potts served the Force for some twenty-two years before his death of TB in 1896.

Services held for Anne Francis

Funeral services for Anne Francis, a long time resident of St. Albert, were held in the United Church in Viking, Alberta, on Monday, October 14. Pallbearers included Andy Kampen and Bill Edwards from St. Albert. Interment followed in Laurendale Cemetery about 12 miles north of Viking, the district in which Anne had grown up and attended school. Anne Kampen, Beth Edwards and daughter, and Betty Brenner were other St. Albert people attending the services.

Miss Francis died about 4 a.m. Saturday morning in Charles Cammell Hospital following a lengthy illness and recurring bouts with cancer.

A hairdresser, Anne worked at Devon and Gunnar Mines before moving to St. Albert in 1959 and buying the beauty shop in the old Hogan office, later sold and known as the Belhumeur building and still later raised to make way for the Bank of Montreal parking lot. In 1961 Miss Francis bought the Gaulin house on St. Michael street and fitted up a beauty shop, which she managed for over seven years. She returned to her family home in Viking for a time, coming back to St. Albert, always a second home to her, in the latter part of 1968.

She rented premises on Perron street and established Kilp and Kurl shop, which she operated until the summer of 1972, when she sold due to poor health.

Anne was well known and made many friends throughout her years in St. Albert. She had been a member of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Royal Canadian Legion in Devon and took interest and assisted the work of the auxiliary here. A favorite hobby in which she took much pleasure was oil painting. She is survived by her father, Bert Francis, a sister Irene Toverud, a cousin Arthur Francis and several nieces and nephews. She was predeceased by her mother and a brother, Jimmy.
